

News from Radlett

Parent Network:

I hope you all had a good half term break. I always like to recommend a book that you may find interesting.

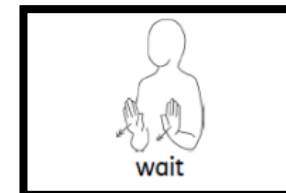

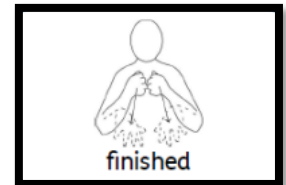

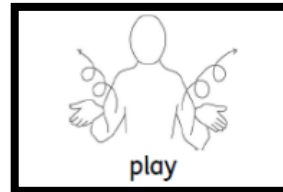

Understanding Autism - Yasmin Akhtar

This book talks about the importance about keeping the child at the centre and the importance of collaborative and consistent working.

In the meantime, if you need to get in touch call the school on 01923 854922, or email me at Mary.rogers@nas.org.uk

Makaton:

This month we have been learning and using the following signs:

An afternoon on the Farm:

Neptune class spent an afternoon on the farm at Oaklands Farm in St Albans. The pupils were able to get up close and personal with some of the animals

Thank you to the staff at Oaklands College Farm who were so helpful telling us all about the animals. Please don't worry that that was not a real lion!

Life-skills in Juno Class:

Juno class have been practising in their culinary skills this term. This week, waffles were on the menu.

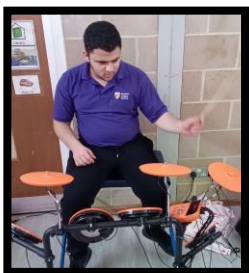

The class worked fantastically as a team. As you can see, the proof of the pudding is in the eating!!

Children's Mental Health Week:

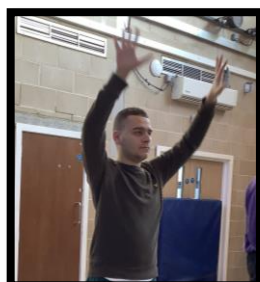

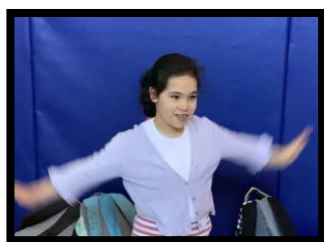

To mark Children's Mental Health Week at the beginning of the month, our pupils took part in daily flow activities to support both their health and emotional wellbeing.

These activities included, music, cooking, fitness sessions, trampolining and sensory play. Something for everyone!

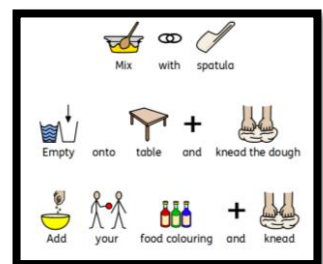

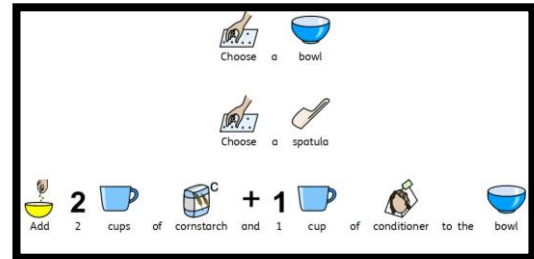

The pupils used the rhythm of the music to try and express their emotions.

Trish, one of our Lead LSA's introduced some of our pupils to fitness sessions, both energising and relaxing.

Sensory Play:

Felix class had great fun making "cloud dough".

The pupils used their communication books to request when they needed "more" ingredients. This is such a good activity to do at home.

Upcoming Events:

6th March – World Book Day

13th March – Parent Network Meeting via TEAMS

14th March – Electric Umbrella
